Student Development Through
Visibility & Workplace Skills

About us

VW is Visibility & Workplace Skills. That means one thing: skills built to be seen.

We train high school juniors and seniors in the workplace skills employers are actually looking for and how to make them visible the moment it counts: the interview, the room, the opportunity.

Students whose skills show up when it matters. Not just on a resume in the interview, the room, the opportunity nobody handed them.

The result

- The confidence to speak about their own strengths without sounding rehearsed
- A clear answer to "why should I hire you" backed by real examples, not just claims
- The ability to read a room and make a first impression that's remembered
- Practical, repeatable strategies for handling any interview question under pressure
- A shift from "I don't have experience" to "I have proof I can do this"

How It Fits Your School Programs?

- Leadership Programs
- Career Centers
- College & Career Readiness
- Freshman Success
- Student Affairs
- Counseling & SEL initiatives

The path

1– The Workshop · 30 to 60 min

First impressions. Posture and body language. Eye contact. Self-introduction. Professional etiquette. Answering a question clearly.

2– Training Next Level

A four-week sequence where each week builds on the last.

3– Interview Intensive

Built around one specific interview: a college admissions panel, a scholarship committee, a competitive program, or a first job.

4– Presence Club

An ongoing community with a guest speaker from a different industry every month real access, not just a group chat.
